The Berlin Project serves a subtle mixture between Techno, House and Tribal Trance, music, which makes the people move, tracks with dance guarantee, percussive, driving and grooving. 11 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Techno, ELECTRONIC: House Details: TELEPORT are not completely unknown on the dancefloors, they made it again and again to bring on music, which make the people move, tracks with dance guarantee, percussive, driving and grooving. Teleport have outstanding production skills with fine tuned sounds, stabs and grooves which make this album stand out of the mass. Don't be scared by the genre description 'trance'. There is no cheesy-mainstream-commercial-hands-in-the-air-warehouse trance at all. Werkschau is a good example for tracks with trance in a very positive way. "Werkschau" is written and produced by Gunnar Geisser, Sebastian Bendzus, Chrisch Schneider and Matthias Scheuer at Audioberlin/Tongruppe Studios in Berlin, Potsdamer Platz, in the neighbourhood of Europe's noisiest and biggest construction site. This is maybe the reason for the tribal structures of this album. The german word 'Werkschau' means an overlook over the creative output of an artist and this is exactly what this album is about: to serve you the handpicked pearls of their past - and their present. 'Werkschau' contains vinyl milestones like 'Druck', 'Resumption', 'Sub-Stance' and 'Native Science', all still sounding fresh and up-to-date accompanied by brandnew tracks like 'A.S.A.P.', played by numerous DJs around the globe, 'Pump 'n Spray', a gentle groover for gentle moments, 'Zoomed Thoughts' a downbeat electro groover, 'Casino Royal' is a hypnotic masterpiece and 'In Mind' a trance anthem with vocals for emotional moments. All this tracks are handpicked, tested all over the world and definitely made for people who are openminded, boardercrossing and addicted to grooves and tribal patterns. This album isn't just made by looped sequences, a lot of the percussion is played live - and this gives this album a special touch. Teleport we're the headlining underground act for the official stage of Street Parade, Zurich, Switzerland, where they performed live for round about 30.000 people. The Street Parade is since 3 years the biggest Parade worldwide, with more than 1,000,000 visitors.....
