Details: Trapper The Rapper Is Rap music merely image? Or is it what it was originally meant to be? A unique communication channel that speaks of real life issues. For Trapper The Rapper, Rap is the means to express his real life experiences, viewpoints and philosophies that everyone can relate to. Hailing from Little Rock, Arkansas, a place where life is real and so are the people; Trapper preaches the foundation of what the Midsouth is legendary for. A strong family and community base. In his debut CD, Man Of The House, he covers these very bases in his own way. For example in the featured song, One Time, he reminds us that Rap is a powerful communication tool. It's not about the images you see in videos of flashy cars, big houses and scantily clad dancing girls. He encourages other artists to break the type casting images and begin to embrace different styles of Rap. Learn and appreciate from others their ideas and viewpoints. This is a valuable point for all of us. The messages and ideas in life come from a diversity of people in our lives and community. Learn what shapes their ideas and help them to understand your own. With that kind of interaction and willingness, whole communities can be transformed.
