With a style as diverse as Hip Hop itself, Wrapped Tight brings a special something that can be loved by people of all walks of life. If you love southern rap with substance (ie. Outkast, TI, Goodie Mobb, etc..), the Untold Truth album should definitely be added to your collection. LP is one of the most intriguing and creative minds in the industry. He reports the happenings of urban life with a poise reminiscent of a young Walter Cronkite, but from the perspective of the 'hood'. LP's witty and street-savvy lyrics force other underground artists (and mainstream artists alike) to step up their game. Touching on topics from the streets to religion and politics, no topic remains unscathed. While LP holds the title as 'most creative lyricist', Virtuoso (aka BI) is one of the south's most powerful production entities. With over 10 years experience in recording, performing, and producing, he is truly a force to be reckoned with. As a South Georgia native, Virtuoso's roots are deeply imbedded in music of the soul; his grandfather played the drums, harmonica, and sang; his uncle played the drums; and his mother and aunts grew up singing in the church choir. Virtuoso's music tends to have a soulful flare, but remains eclectic.
