By age five his music career began by singing solo in church. All thru school he grasped on to all the classes in productions, theatre, and art he could. By age fifteen the progression started as youth organist, member of the church music team and choir, sang solos, duets, trios, pianist, organist, and attended summer school for more music. After high school came the music group, Nashville (the first taste of the recording studio) and touring. Also there was work and college, which gave him a career in fashion and business. Life also had its hardships, trouble and trials. Instead of being defeated, those things became his strength and determination for reaching his goals and dreams. His experiences in life have made him stronger; as he would say; Im a better christian now. Reach for the stars, make lemonade, and dont blame God for what people have done to you. After the church rejected him (God didnt) he tottled off to do his own thing. Playing here, singing there, and now: with the encouragement of many friends, family, and musician friends, the launch of a solo cd. Enjoy his music as much as I do. Dianne E
