I create break neck beats, and reality based poetry, Intermixed into a eclectic boiling pot of funkdaified poetry. 13 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Experimental, SPOKEN WORD: Poetry Details: Welcome to the Amerrickan Revolution.... My name is Brian Patrick Merrick and I am DJ Amerrickan. The whole idea of DJ American was formed in 2001 while playing around with DJ software and adding poetry. I slowly began experimenting with different styles that fit well with poetry. Over the years I included dance and trance, and down tempo/chill out mixed with poetry to create a funky sound that has been well receive around the internet. I am a published poet with numerous publications in books, spoken word cd's and anthologies. I have received the editors choice award for poetic achievement from the integration library of poetry. And I have my own book coming out this year entitled "Feelings are not facts". In terms of my music I started off as a complete nobody but over the months and years starting to gain recognition for my unique style and now im number 1 for experimental electronic music on vitaminic.com. Im also number 11 for ALL electronic/dance music on vitaminic.com. I've had over 700 downloads of my music since I began and I have fans all over the world who enjoy my music. My poetry is known for its hardcore realistic style, and the healing elements found inside. I have been through a lot in my life, and lived to tell about it, so now I speak my mind through my music and my poetry. At this point Im deceiving what to do next with DJ American and I've decided to put my music out there for sale for people who want something different and out of the ordinary. This is my first album, and all my collected songs are on here. This was a test album to see which and what went well with poetry. ;) Im starting to work on my next album "Pulse Pounding Poetry" that should drop once I've finished it. This album is more electronic/dance/down tempo and the next album will be house/deep house/Chicago house with poetry. I am 26 and am a artist, a graphic designer, a poet, a musician, a martial artist, and a philosopher. If you like my music and are one of the few who actually listen to the lyrics, please try to really listen and learn from what I'm teaching. I am trying to help people and I've found a good way to do it is through music and poetry. I hope you enjoy my music as I've really enjoyed making it. God Bless Brian Patrick Merrick DJ Amerrickan
