You definitely cannot wear the tan slacks and drink a diet pepsi while listening to this record. It calls for something more: velvet, corduroy, apple martinis, a Rolling Rock perhaps, and somebody sweet on your mind. 11 MP3 Songs POP: Piano, ROCK: Acoustic Details: Pittsburgh singer-songwriter Heather Kropf has released her sophomore album "What Else is Love" to rave reviews and immediate rotation-level radio play. With the piano as her instrument of choice, she creates a lush, literate blend of folk and jazz-influenced pop that is at once earthy and familiar, sophisticated and fresh. Pittsburgh Magazine says her voice "quietly soars with warmth, great tone, honesty, clarity and beauty" and fans have been heard to say "each song is a prayer." Album Reviews ...a sexy, sophisticated record... the centerpiece is the title track, Kropf's femme fatale vocals beautifully accented by a spare middle-of-the-night backing track that longs to be in a movie soundtrack." - Pittsburgh Tribune-Review "The long-awaited second album from the fresh-voiced Kropf, What Else is Love is a multi-faceted aural digest of styles ranging from jazz to folk, to radio friendly pop. Poignant lyrics and enduring melodies carry each song, showcasing Kropf's maturity as a songsmith...After five years, Kropf hits her mark. Definitely worth the wait." - MugZine "Heather Kropf's second independent, self-produced CD plays like the work of a seasoned pro, and she's beginning to realize that people get it. "What Else is Love" crackles with contemporary folk, pop and jazz elements -- bright ideas framed in solid pop sensibilities performed by Kropf on a 1920s Steinway surrounded by electric instruments. Her songs are turning heads in the local singer-songwriter circle, and she scored a rare coup, landing rotation-level airplay on WYEP." - Pittsburgh Post-Gazette "Listening to Heather's music is like turning off the lamp and opening the curtains on a clear day. Let it shine, let it shine, let it shine." - Gardyloo Fanzine "musical masterpiece" - Pittsburgh Magazine
