I started teaching myself electric/guitar at age twelve and began performing live at age fourteen. During my mid-twenties I began focusing more on my original music that was based around the acoustic guitar. While finishing a two year cross country tour playing Bass guitar for my Brother, I decided to go solo. By my late twenties I began doing local open mics and opening for local bands at a consistent pace. I Draw from Art to Spiritual Philosophies and Mythology as well as my own life experiences for my song writing and musical endeavors. My Set List focus mainly on my own music with selected covers tunes ranging from blues, folk, jazz, and country. I am currently working on my next CD while keeping my chops up doing live shows and open mics whenever and where ever I can.
