Five A.M. has the uncompromising ability to maintain a stiff yet complex groove built around a devastatingly tight rhythm section of Jed Friesen (drums), Zach Miller (bass and didgeridoo) and Benjie Kushins (percussion), all the while allowing guitar virt 11 MP3 Songs ROCK: Modern Rock, ROCK: Progressive Rock Details: For the second time, fans of Five A.M. have helped the band to record their music. Their first album, "Degrees of Falling," was financed with over $21,000 of fan investment. Similarly, their latest CD, "This Morphine Life," was produced and recorded entirely on spec by Gary Platt, President of Ex'Pression College in Emeryville. Platt, a gold record winning producer and engineer (Bon Jovi, The Cult, King Crimson, Bootsy Collins, Prince) saw the band perform live at a student produced webcast, and offered to record them. Captured live in just three days, "This Morphine Life" deals with life both beginning and ending around lead singer Trent Yaconelli. The band officially released the CD with a headlining show at Petaluma's Mystic Theater on June 11th.
