From new takes on timeless standards to hard-driving originals and tender ballads, "Case in Point" covers all the bases of what a jazz record should be. "Utilizing the amazing history of the tenor sax is a tall order for anyone, yet Matt has paid his dues and plays enough history to have made it 'in the door'...he has come up with his own direction, followed his own heart, and truly found his own voice. I think the listener will agree that Matt Adams' voice on the saxophone, as evidenced on this recording, is one to behold." - Dr. Michael Cox, Professor of Saxophone and Jazz Studies, Capital University; Columbus, OH
