R&B/soul/pop /hip hop music 13 MP3 Songs URBAN/R&B: Urban, POP: Pop Show all album songs: Louder Than Words Songs Details: Urban Theory Isaac Johnson (24) and Clef Payne (25) met on July 1st, 2005. Together they merged their talents to create a unique sound in which they could show the world their theory, Urban Theory. This talented group writes, produces and engineers all of their material. They have been compared to: Justin Timberlake, Timberland all the way to the Neptunes. Based out of Miami, They are no stranger to performing in the club or out on the beach. Their song Shouldve been you was selected as a finalist for the Song of the year competition, and they received first place in the Gimme ninja original song Competition in Miami Fl. Some of their influences are: Brian McKnight, Musiq soul Child, Jamie foxx, Nayo, Timberland, Rodney Jerkins J Moss, and Justin Timberlake. Urban Theory was created on the basis of their point of view on life, the world around them, and the world in general. With their three albums (Urban Theory 101, Urban Theory, and Louder than words) they reached crowds of all types delivering the message behind their music in hopes it would make a difference in someone else's life. Music binds them together and through this bond lives an uncalculated amount of harmony, passion, and rhythm that will break barriers and take you to a place that you've never been before. Urban Theory? It's a nature, a way of being, and a way of living only Isaac and Clef know how to explain. It is their way of viewing the world through imperfect eyes, yet depicting the imperfections of life and vividly showing the world through chords on a piano and through their vocals on each track. Not only are they talented, they provide meaning to their music that truly leaves you thinking. Now, after performing all over Miami Florida, and writing and producing three albums on their own, they are now looking to take their music to the next level with the right record label. Tags: pop
