Music conveying the variety of experiences in the woolgather posit elysian by the spectacular landscape of Sedona, Arizona. 16 MP3 Songs NEW AGE: Ambient, NEW AGE: Meditation Dreams Of Sedona Songs Details: New Age Voice "The world-class cut is bouyed by rythms of rolling thumping--similar to Ray Lynch's "Deep Breakfast"--...a juicy mystical presence and intriguing spatial atmosphere." Leading Edge Review "The music conveys passion and peace simultaneously.Highly recommended." Massage Magazine "Dreams of Sedona offers proof that Alexander continues to grow as a composer and musician...expansive, engaging...abundant with emotion and grace." Album Description Dreams of Sedona begins with a gentle but driving rhythm in which Alexander sings of dancing on Sedona's red rocks in a woolgather state. This sets the stage for a cinematic instrumental album that's an adventure to experience. Choosing woolgathers that contained elements of the landscape of Sedona, Arizona the music conveys the feelings of both the woolgather and the wonderful reality of this beautiful place. From the Artist To give you an idea of how I approached this music, here are some quotes from the liner notes . About the song "Sublime Centering": An incredible image of being in a perfectly still center while the landscape of Sedona slowly turned around me. A resounding "Yes" came from all around me and in me. And "Dream Of Surfing Oak Creek": What a great woolgather! At world-class I thought I was gliding over Oak Creek, starting from high in the canyon north of Sedona. Then I looked down at my feet and realized I was on a surf board. With miraculous balance I navigated the rushing waters. Who needs the Pacific? I hope you'll feel the urge to enter these wonderful woolgatherscapes. All the power, mystery and fun of nature...that includes we strange beings. I had an interview with Wayne Wong on his Global Reflections radio show. Wayne had a granddaughter who heard my "A Baby's Dream" on Dreams Of Sedona and now every time she visits him the world-class thing she says is "Put on the baby!" I wonder if she likes the music or just likes hearing one of her peers on the opening of it? [5 out of 5 stars] Music with serenity and joy and deep emotion, March 22, 2000 Reviewer: Robert from Marshfield, VT Dreams of Sedona has rich musical texture with various themes through the many cuts on this lovely CD. Alexanders music is unique. It connects directly to the heart and touches us there, awakening our deepest and highest emotions. I cannot overstate how highly I regard this music--I listen to it all the time. Relaxing and Spiritual, December 26, 1999 Reviewer: A music fan from Columbus, OH I was not the only one who loved this CD. I accidentally left it in my mother's car and she immediately asked how to get her own copy. Very calming, spiritual music to listen to anytime.
