Details: Rock + Folk + Funk + Pop = a damn good show! Gibson Endorsed international act, Camille Bloom, is touring full time in support of her many recordings and is rapidly growing a devoted and adoring fan base. Praised for her high energy and intensely personal show, Fox News calls her "Seattle's own American Idol". It takes just one listen to know that you are amidst a star. Touring Nationally for the past three years, Camille recorded her latest album and Junior Release, live in front of a studio audience. Previously, she has worked with Paul Kimble (producer of such acts as Radiohead and David Gray) to release her sophomore album "Say Goodbye to Pretty" which says as much about her social awareness as it does about her music. "This is wonderful; full of life; wild, sweet and rich in its sound textures; graced with songwriting that fills the heart and surprises the mind" (Bill Fisher, Victory Review). Known for her incredibly dynamic voice and edgy acoustic rock, Camille has played the most premiere venues on the East and West Coasts - ranging from New York City's Bitter End, Boston's Club Passim, Seattle's Showbox, Tractor, and Crocodile, Los Angeles' The Mint and over 150 other rooms spanning the nation. She has had the chance to share the stage with such acts as SUGARCULT, Brandi Carlile, Mark Olson (The Jayhawks), Michelle Malone, and many others. Though modest about her achievements, in the last five years, she has been featured in Performing Songwriter Magazine, created the soundtrack for an HBO sponsored documentary "Not Straight Forward", was picked to be on a compilation CD with Michelle Malone and Amy Ray (Indigo Girls), completed over 25 national tours and has been on several major and college radio stations throughout Washington, Oregon, Colorado, New York and California. Bottom line, Camille Bloom is a powerhouse of a performer: said to be "like Ani DiFranco dipped in Maple Syrup". (Spokane Inlander). Camille can play with the powerful punch of a 4 piece band - or play acoustic shows. Bandmates include: Michael Cotta on Percussion, Jim Watkins on the Bass, and Paul Fischer on Lead Guitar.
