All that is required is that you give it a fair number of plays to be sure. I am that positive that you will enjoy this CD. Dan Pound trained classically on piano, guitar and double bass at an early age and started writing songs soon after. He went on to be in the local honor orchestra and was soon writing pieces for the entire ensemble. Dan has earned degrees in recording engineering and electronic music technology, and received credits as 1st engineer and mixer for an indie jazz release by the Steve Wolfe Quartet. Over the last several years, he has developed a home project studio where he does most of his work now recording and producing his music independently. His specialties are ambient new age world electronica and soundtrack material. Dan has earned numerous top 10 positions in various categories on Broadjam's top 10 lists.
