has been a DJ and remixer of dance and house music. A student of music from early on, he learned such classical instruments as the viola, saxophone, tuba and piano and has adopted music as his best friend.

Ever since, he has flirted with the industry in one form or another. Originally from rural eastern Pennsylvania, he moved to South Florida to attend the University of Miami. He first got interested in the underground dance music scene in 1993 during the resurgence of the South Beach area. He fell in love with the hypnotic rhythms and Latin sounds that took over and literally provided the soundtrack to the re-building of Miami Beach. In early 1997, David had the opportunity to move to New York City where his love of the underground dance scene expanded even further. Delving into the wide variety of electronic house sounds, his mixing style went deeper and darker, a style that persists to this day. In 2003, David moved back to Florida where he now makes Orlando home. He continued honing his DJ craft and his production career slowly started to develop. After years of working with other artists samples, pre-produced loops and vocal tracks, "Transcendence" was born. Its his first original production and the first of his efforts to be formally released to the public. "Transcendence" is a mix of down-tempo instrumental house, light melodic trance and electronic chillout sounds all with a new age twist.

"Transcendence" presents a good fusion of stylesongs with a spacey, ethereal vibe, with enough organic and acoustic elements thrown in to keep it grounded and give it a bit of earthiness. Hes delivered the deep drum kicks and strong bass lines of the electronic dance music from his mixing, with the addition of true-to-life instruments to give it just the right balance. Plans are already being laid to follow up this

10-track CD with a selection of remixes for the dance floor DJs and producers. funky and hypnotica true spiritual journey
