NEW AGE: Spiritual, EASY LISTENING: Mood Music Details: A. Rosario was gifted with the name Caoguael by his people. A Native American of Taino descent, he was taught at an early age by his Elders the magic and power of music on the soul and the planet. From classical to contemporary, David Weiss enjoys playing and composing both professionally and as a hobby. Having produced solo albums, he always enjoys the opportunity to work on projects with other wonderful musicians (thank you Raven).

David considers music a holistic communication, allowing energy to freely flow through both players and listeners. He appreciates a natural environment that helps to spawn creativity for a worldly feel. Music is an expression of our souls, in linear fashion, held together by our timeless rhythms. Allowing music to occur is a vitally important feature of our lives, to be held in very high regard. The flute is an ancient instrument which captures and releases the emotions of the player and listener, awakening primordial memories in oneself. The Taino sacred drum called the Mayohuacan is used in ceremony and celebration. The drum is the heartbeat of the earth. Unheard in over 600 years, until Yucaho (Great Spirit) gifted us once again with its powerful rhythm. We ask that these ancient instruments move and heal you.
