Music without borders; Balkan jazz from Salzburg, Austria 10 MP3 Songs WORLD: Balkan, JAZZ: Crossover Jazz Show all album songs: Live At Jazzit Songs Details: Die Resonanz Stanonczi play a melange of Jazz and Eastern European melodies and rhythms, and their concerts are unforgettable. Featuring the Austrian folk accordion, clarinet saxophone, and driven by drums, percussion and voice, this acclaimed trio plays a dynamic range of original music. In concert, a magic is created with their playful interactions between each other - and the audience. ...Johannes Steiner mixes a very special melange of Bukovinian rhythm and Styrian accordion sounds with his cheeky and impudent skill...on the Diatonische Harmonika ...Drummer and percussionist Robert Kainer reveals the funk in uneven rhythm as well... ...Amy Denio (Danubians, Curlew, Billy Tipton Memorial Saxophone Quartet) plays the saxophone and sings, creates a special mixture of scat singing and free-form yodelling for this band. Its music full of adventure - Jazz. One can dance to it, and they're sure to attract attention at the upcoming festivals. Bernhard Jugel, Notes Mnchen, B5-Jazztipp.
