Elegant and sexy message of contemporary pop culture from a delicate and sensual international performer. 13 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Pop Crossover, POP: Today's Top 40 Details: ha Urbsalu, the European born beauty the New York Post calls "an Estonian stunner" is a triple threat in field of music, modeling, and film. In 2002 Koch Records released From The Hamptons To Ibiza, a compilation album featuring three ha written and recorded songs. On February 2003, one of the songs, Missing, was placed on Rhythm Radio compilation, next to Justin Timberlake and J. Lo. Starting with the release of her single, Touch Me, ha spent 2004 in the United States and Europe recording her debut album Together - working with an "A List" of musical talent, including Grammy winners Jimmy Douglass and Ernie Lake, "house music" pioneer Vince Lawrence, Italy's Armando Curcio, and Estonia's Def Rdu. An exciting combination of self written, chill and dance driven repertoire, Ms. Urbsalu's very first full length is a blend of American and Eastern European musical cultures. ha was born in Estonia - the northwestern republic of the former Soviet Union - ha grew up in Tallinn, the country's medieval capital, where her mother, Milja, was a costume designer in the country's only movie studio. Singing from childhood, at the age of six, the young ha was selected to enter the Jacob Westholm Gymnasium - a specialized musical high school - where she studied for eleven years and also performed in the youth chorus of Estonia. As a young adult, ha won a series of national beauty contests, including Miss Estonia and the very first and last Supermodel of Soviet Union, as the country entered "perestroika" - thus leading to her participation in the Supermodel of the World, starting ha's travels throughout the world for modeling and television appearances. During the late nineties, while in Los Angeles, she attended The American Academy of Dramatic Arts and acted in several comedies, including Cannes Man and most recently in The Stepford Wives. In July 2004 ha's single Touch Me was chosen for another Rhythm Radio compilation, by Promo Only, next to Janet

Jackson and Seal. In August 2004 ha was asked to perform on a Karin Models Next Generation Awards in Equador, which was televised by Univision and Fashion TV throughout the world. In October another song from ha's album, I'm On My Way, was chosen for a compilation in Italy, Top Radio 6, which soon reached a gold album status. At the start of 2005 ha performed as a finalist in Estonia for the Eurovision song contest. Soon after the song, Gotta Go, reached #1 in radio in Estonia. By May Eha reached her first #1 of American top 40 in Electric Eye Radio in New York. Also in May Eha was asked to sing for the USO Marines in New York City.
