"A wonderfully musical debut from an artist who writes like a lighthouse for the human condition" 8 MP3 Songs POP: with Live-band Production, POP: Folky Pop Details: Michael Meanwhile cut his teeth in New York City playing guitar, bass, keyboard, drums, and singing harmonies for a number of bands and songwriters. The most notable being his collaborations with local songwriting maverick, Garth McDermott. Performing with various artists, in top NYC venues proved rewarding, but Meanwhile knew that breaking away would be a chance to find his own voice. So in the final month of 2003 he bid farewell to his lifelong home and headed for the unfamiliar skyline of Portland, Oregon. This self titled CD is Meanwhile's first solo release, and was produced by veteran NYC musician/producer Paul Umbach. The songs are honest and arousing with lyrics that ring true to anyone interested in life beyond their immediate line of site. A profound declaration in the tradition of thoughtful songwriters and poets alike. Today, Michael can be found with his guitar, somewhere in the Pacific Northwest, playing his songs for all who will listen.
