Muzzy played throughout the Midwest in support of 'Symptoms' through summer and fall of 2002. Currently the band is writing and recording new material for their second CD to be released in Spring 2004. The new single 'Live With Yourself', which is a major step forward for Muzzy Luctin's harder edge, has been well received in advance previews by label reps and media. With past experience and mature songwriting skills, it is only a matter of time before this band explodes into the national spotlight.
