She has taught high school music for the past 11 years including orchestra, band, keyboard, guitar and vocal, and stumbled upon a group of teachers jamming in the music room one night. She was really quite shy to join in, but the following day came back to the teachers with lyrics and a melody to some of the songs that they were working on the night before. Instantly, she found that she loved writing and performing music and thought she would share her songs with the world by creating a CD. By listening to the CD, you will literally hear Victoria's down-to-earth nature through her voice, her melody, her harmonies, and her lyrics. Her stories are real, some are sad, and others will lift you up! If there is one CD you should truly own and listen to a few times, it is this one, as it will strike a deep chord deep into your soul. This CD has something for everyone! Victoria truly wants to share her gift with you. She wants this CD to get into your hands and into your stereo more than anything. She also appreciates comments, and critiques and would welcome you as a fan. Victoria is extremely eager to take this musical initiative to the next level.
