This album fills the need for non-sacred holiday music that is both new in feeling and comfortable in style. There are ties to medieval, folk, jazz, country and light rock that are found in the traditional music that is popular during the holiday season. Many of these pieces are also appropriate for year-round listening. This album contains Wynn Ericksons trademark style, using unusual chord progressions and transitions that heighten the emotional response to the music. There is both a new and familiar feeling to these instrumental songs. Wynn Erickson is a classically trained musician and keyboardist living in Washington State and Mexico. He holds a Bachelor of Arts in Music from Seattle University and a Master of Music degree from the University of the Pacific in California.
