The music featured on this CD was recorded on June 18, 2008 at the 1794 Meetinghouse in New Salem, MA. Classical music has been my passion since childhood. Though I'm a fan of many other genres styles, the music of the Masters has always comforted and inspired me to my greatest human potential in ways that a thousand words cannot describe. Classical music has been the most potent medicine I've ever known, and now it's my privilege to share that medicine with you! Bio: Adams experiences as a musician transcend the boundaries of a typical classical pianist. Over the past 20 years he's studied classical piano, voice and composition while exploring the facets forms of different styles of modern music. In 2003 his focus began to shift from performing to composing; hes since released seven full-length CDs of his own compositions, with several more recordings to be released in 2009. In addition to his extensive performance schedule as a classical pianist, Adam works as a freelance composer, arranger, multi-instrumentalist, studio musician, producer consultant throughout New England.
