reprogressing house in a flight of electro say you want to remember those days gone by..remix your love 11 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: House, ELECTRONIC: Experimental Show all album songs: The Wizard of Houze Songs Details: Flying Fish Wizard of Houze is the first album released by Flying Fish. An eclectic fusion of progressive house, electro and breakbeat mixed up with glimpses of the future and recollections of days well lived. Flying Fish, aka Sha, has been mixing around the electronic scene for a good many years. Despite having to put his music aside at times, he's been popular enough to release many original tracks on labels including Green Ants, USTA, Krembo and Flying Rhino. He has also been filling dance floors and indeed earthen grounds at clubs, festivals and doofs across Australia, Japan, Israel and India. After being privileged enough to focus entirely on his music over the last year, Sha has created an amazing new sound and direction with this first album. Each track is different and each takes the listener, or hopefully dancer, into a world where one forgets about genres and types and styles, creating an atmosphere of sheer joy and pure love. Born and raised in Israel, Sha traveled around the world, making music and friends until settling down(a bit) in Sydney, Australia. Since making his home here, he has been a prominent figure on the local electronic music scene, from organizing hugely successful local events to starting a highly respected music store in Bondi Beach.
