He is a multi talented artist, playing drums, guitar, and keyboards as well as being a singer/songwriter. It is seriously in the blood. Gabe spent several years working in the SF Bay Area with a pop band called 008. At the same time he kept his blues roots in tact by playing with artists like Chris Cain, Michael Osborn, and with his father and uncles. He has also done recordings with those same artists. Gabe is now going out on his own doing his own material his way. It has very strong blues roots but is definitely heavily influenced by the pop culture of today. This Cd reveals Gabe's many talents with him playing drums throughout and keys and guitar on many tracks. He also does all the singing and wrote all but two songs. On these recordings Gabe is supported by the talents of Robben Ford, Mark Ford, Chris Cain and others. This is powerful but moody music that will take you on a very enjoyable audio ride. Have a nice journey.
