Rap that takes "church to the streets." Hyped-up, bass-filled tracks and strong metaphysical deliverable flow by Kent 8 MP3 Songs HIP HOP/RAP: East Coast, HIP HOP/RAP: Rap Details: Daniel H. Kent, was born in 1970 in Capitol Heights, MD (Washington, D.C. suburb) and has been writing gospel/christian rap music for about eleven (11) years. He, finally, is taking strides and making efforts to make this leisure dream a reality. Fresh off his showcase at the 2002 Nashville New Music Conference (2NMC) in Nashville, TN, he is working on showcasing his talents in local churches and religious venues. The record execs say that it's essential to develop a market locally in order to be signed to a major record deal. The deliverance of his message is directed toward the streets where, he feels, there are a lot of unclaimed and lost souls. Taking Church to the Streets is his motto. He feels that he has the appeal to make this a reality. Holy Ghost Mafia (H.G. MOB) Records is a vision of the label and clothing line he wants to create and promote. The colors: White Purity, Black Death, Red Atonement, Green Spiritual life, Purple Royalty, and Blue Heavenly character. He has a website at holyghostmafiarecords.org. Kent, also, has a clothing line at cafepress.com, click on SHOP, MUSIC, and search for hgmob to find his apparel (hats, T-shirts, mousepads, etc.). His album cover has the H.G. MOB hat and t-shirt apparel.
