His influences which include M.O.P, Jay-Z and Eminem for which he credits his ability to write catchy hooks, deliver and showcase his punch lines as well as perform stand out club songs. After being hype man for one of the hottest local artist on the eastern shore he decided by way of default that playing the background was not his goal, so after writing and performing his song HUH HUH HA, to a crowd of over 600 people Rayz the rapper was born, although it wasnt until he started writing intros for radio show djs that hed really become a house hold name. Mission 1 Realizing his stronghold on his local area, hes been dubbed Delmarvas (Del. Md. Va.) voice of hip-hop; his wordplay and flow represent an untapped area between both Bay Bridges, with over 12 counties and well over 20,000 dedicated hip hop heads, he was now being told to grab hold of a much wider audience. To ensure his credibility he spotlighted a few dates on the lyricist lounge tour, which included acts such as Mos Def, the Outsidadz and Masterfuol, and also opened for acts such as Jay-Z as well as other Roc-a-fella artist, Nelly, JadaKiss of the Lox, Keith Murray, and artist on the Ruff Ryders label. Hes been described as an explosion of raw high-energy, emotion, gift wrapped in music. Mission 2 As he developed his skill the tasks of finding a notable producer was at hand, and as luck and Gods will would prevail hed be introduced to producers who's clientele include groups like the Terror Squad and now deceased platinum selling artist Big Pun, as well as platinum selling Grammy nominate artist Fat Joe, gold-selling recording artist Big L, and triple platinum artist Ole Dirty Bastard of the Wu-Tang clan, Jay-Z, Kanye West, Ma$e and countless others. After banging out tracks and putting together a strong demo Rayz quickly began the shopping process. Mission Possible To gain more notoriety hes been steadily working on tracks, writing and performing in and around the Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, and D.C. areas. Recently being offered a non-exclusive demo deal with Capitol Imaging Group, Inc the CEO Corbin Grimes was quoted saying his music has breakthrough potential. Using rap as a catapult he hopes to start the Rayz the Kids Foundation in which he devotes his time to give back to the community speaking to kids about drug alcohol abuse, AIDS awareness and teen pregnancy. Hes also looking forward to providing and participating in annual sports programs and doing free concerts to support his community and his foundation. He has hopes of starting his own label called STREET SLANG MUZIK, and has enlisted some of MDs lower eastern shore hottest artist. Using what hes learned to help others is what is important to him, with conscious lyrics like Are we brainwashed by the television, got us thinking thats a better living/ raise the children, words of wisdom deep from myself/ so I can leave a piece of myself and countless label meetings, promo ops followed by rave reviews of his work, this unsigned mc wont be for long. As Rayz would put it it's Gods will, its already done, its just a matter of timing and patience.
