Jagermeister-sponsored, Fritz's Polka Band performs an eclectic mix of music that breaks the "polka" stereotype. 15 MP3 Songs WORLD: Polka, EASY LISTENING: Polka Details: Jagermeister-sponsored, Fritz's Polka Band (FPB) was formed in 1978 by lead accordionist, Fred Scherz Sr., and his eight-year old son, Fritz, for whom the band was named. FPB performs an eclectic mix of musical styles, including modern polka, country, fox-trot, waltz, and more! Fritz's Polka Band is NOT an oompa pa band or the stereotypical "polka" band. In fact, FPB is known for breaking the stereotype regarding "polka" music. FPB is the first polka band to perform at a Woodstock Festival! FPB has made 16 recordings, which have achieved international airplay. Individuals of the band, and the band itself, have received some prestigious honors. As a group, Fritz's Polka Band has performed on stage with "Canada's Polka King," Walter Ostanek (Grammy winner), "America's Polka King," the late Frank Yankovic (Grammy winner), LynnMarie Rink (Grammy nominee), and Glen Burtnik. Individually, Fritz has performed on-stage with Steve Augeri (lead singer of Journey). FPB even appears on "The Manchurian Candidate" DVD, from Paramount Pictures! Additionally, Fritz's Polka Band has opened up shows for Walt Ostanek, the late Frank Yankovic, Jimmy Sturr (Grammy winner), and BeauSoleil (Grammy winner). Original members were: Fred Scherz Sr., as lead accordionist; Fritz Scherz on second accordion; Gabe Vaccaro on bass guitar; and Al "Rebe" Reber on trumpet. Vocals were done primarily by Rebe. It would be one year before the band would add a drummer. In 1979, Kevin Collins joined the band as the drummer. FPB was now a five-piece band, playing a variety of events ranging from weddings to county fairs. In 1982, due to many requests, FPB recorded their first album: "Fritz's Polka Band". It was a very exciting process, as none of the members had done a recording before. In 1983, Kevin left the band to attend college. After his departure, Doug Warner and Jim Swan shared the drumming duties. In 1984, Charlie Wolfgang joined Fritz's Polka Band as their full-time drummer. In 1985, Fritz's Polka Band released a 45rpm record. Frankie's Polka and Happy Birthday Polka were the songs on this release. Frankie's Polka was recorded in honor of America's Polka King, Frank Yankovic. Happy Birthday Polka was recorded for anyone celebrating a birthday. In 1986, Charlie retired. Once again, Fritz's Polka Band was faced with finding a new drummer. The search did not take long, as Rick Szczyt was given a tryout, and shortly thereafter, joined the band. Rick has been the drummer for Fritz's Polka Band ever since. In August of 1987, Rebe resigned from the band so he could raise his family. Again, Fritz's Polka Band was faced with replacing a member. To fill this position, Fritz's Polka Band chose a guitarist, Tom Campbell. Tom had played in a country/western band for over 30 years, and could also sing. At this time, Fritz and Tom began doing most of the singing. In December of 1987, Fritz began to play the Slovenian Button-Box accordion. This added a new dimension to FPB. In February of 1988, Fritz's Polka Band released their second album: "10 Years of Fritz's Polka Band." Fred wrote many of the songs on this album. In 1989, Fritz went to Gibbon, Minnesota to compete in the National Accordion Contest. This contest featured many fine musicians from all over the United States. Fritz was really proud when he won first place! In 1991, Frank Nelson started playing guitar and singing with Fritz's Polka Band. At times in the past, Tom was unable to perform with Fritz's Polka Band due to a hectic work schedule, so Frank also joined FPB. This was rather ironic, because Fred had played in a band in the 1950's with Frank's father, Jim. Frank and Tom both still perform with Fritz's Polka Band. In October of 1992, Fritz went to Ohio to appear on a videotape production with Canada's Polka King, Walter Ostanek. Many great musicians are on this video, and Fritz is honored to be part of it. On May 6, 1995, at Fritz's Polka Band's Annual Spring dance, before a sold-out crowd, Fred was presented a plaque from the Polka Fans of Central New York and the surrounding areas for "50 Years of Musical Excellence in Accordion Playing." In September of 1995, an official Fritz's Polka Band Fan Club was formed. On March 22, 1996, the band released their third album entitled: "Give Polka Music A Chance." This album was listed in the Top 10 Recordings of the Central New York Region for 1996 by the Syracuse New Times. Fritz's Polka Band is the only polka band, thus far, to make this exclusive Top 10.
