Details: Joel, an accomplished jazz reggae musician, has studied piano since the year 1986, trumpet since 1987, and saxophone and drums since 1991. Although this versatile musician has trained to play in different musical genres (jazz, reggae, funk, salsa, and Latin jazz), he decided to focus on his love for Latin jazz in 1997 and has since trained with some of the top musicians in the industry. While living in St. Croix, Joel was the director of Various Artists, his own reggae, jazz, and funk band, and a part of the 666th Army National Guard Band. When Howard Universitys School of Fine Arts Music Department in DC recruited him as a Jazz studies piano major in 1998, Joel ventured from St. Croix to Washington, DC to pursue his musical career. Since then, he has had the honor of playing with such highly acclaimed bands as Orquesta La Romana (Washington,DC), voted best salsa orchestra by salsametroconsecutively 2001-2005, the 257th Army National Guard Band (Washington, DC), Sound V.I. Zion Records Reggae Band (St. Croix, VI), and Edwin Pabon and Orchestra (Boston, MA). In early 2005, he was selected to tour with Sound V.I.Zion Records during its Spring 2005 East Coast Tour. He has also had the honor of performing on stage with such Grammy winning salsa bands and artists as Mambo 911 (Chicago, IL), New Swing Sextet, Chino Nuez, Bobby Allende, Ray De La Paz, Frankie Vazquez, and Roberto Roena, among others. Joels recordings include Howard Universitys 1998 Jazz Ensemble as well as compositions and arrangements with 3 major record labels (B'neath Da Underground Sounds, LLS Records, and Sound V.I. Zion Records). He has also co-produced a cd entitled Jerome Austrie, a vocalist and guitarist. In 2003, Joel began preparing for the release of his own much anticipated, Latin jazz cd with his original, never heard before, musical compositions, some of which have been in the works as early as 1995. His focus lies specifically on the relation of notes to movement. ----- Credits:
