Songs we have written which tell of our love for each other, our family, friends and our God. Soundwise, we are compared often to Simon&Garfunkel-moving, personal lyrics with close, tight harmonies backed by acoustic guitars, piano, harmonica and fiddle 15 MP3 Songs GOSPEL: Contemporary Gospel, FOLK: Gentle Details: Clare and I met in high school in a musical production that our high schools combined to produce. And we have been singing together ever since. I loved the thoughts and poetry of Bob Dylan and we both were heavily influenced by the music of Simon and Garfunkel; James Taylor; Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young, the Beatles and Judy Collins, just to name a few. We have sung our songs throughout New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, and Maryland. We have shared the music the Lord has given us with all who would listen in churches, concert halls, grade schools, high schools and colleges, coffee houses, hospitals, nursing homes, on television, radio and every place in between. Several years ago we were fortunate enough to make an independent album of our music.I think the contents of All the Roads can be best summarized by the statement we made on the back of the original album. These thoughts still hold true today. To us All the Roads is more than a record album. It is the realization of a dream. Its the chance to share our gifts, our songs, ourselves with you. We dedicate this album to the love of Jesus which we have discovered in the hearts of those weve met and those weve yet to meet on all the roads. Enjoy.
