Americana- pure, rootsy, gutsy and all-out. 10 MP3 Songs ROCK: Americana, COUNTRY: Modern Country Details: Singer/Songwriter, Marysue Proveaux has been performing on stage since the age of five. Her parents divorced at an early age and she needed a way to cope with having only one parent around, so she did so through music. Her Father was born and raised in Georgia and played guitar in a local band growing up, so music was already in her blood. She remembers her Mother playing the likes of Merle, Patsy and Conway over and over again while growing up. She was born and raised in New Jersey, and has had a lifetime love affair with music. It is her passion and it shows in her voice and in the songs she writes. Growing up, Marysue had many opportunities to perform. There were always kids that had a band in the neighborhood, so anytime she had the chance she would get up and sing. Soon that ambition turned into getting work in club bands and she really started developing a strong stage presence and powerful, individual vocal style. Marysue plays an acoustic Larrivee and writes all of her songs on this favored guitar. Her songs are honest and real, taken from her own life experiences. Her style is edgy, yet her lyrics are fragile, but there is nothing fragile about this girl's voice. Marysue presently travels to Nashville frequently to write and record. When she is not writing, her full schedule has her performing four to six nights a week, keeping her in great shape vocally and physically. This past summer she was a featured artist at an MP3showcase and has performed at many events in Atlantic City and many other venues along the north and south coast. Marysuemusicis her official website where you can hear clips of her latest material and see performance dates. She recently placed 5th place in the Ladysixstringsongwriting contest with Wishing on a Satellite. Which is the title track from her CD. The Ladysixstring website is also putting out a compilation CD which will include one of Marysue's songs. It should be released in early fall of this year.
