Singer/Songwriter: Smooth and peaceful melodies that speak of hope and love, sure to bring encouragement to all that listen. 12 MP3 Songs SPIRITUAL: Contemporary Christian, EASY LISTENING: Easy Pop Details: My name is Jennifer Harris and Im a singer/songwriter from the state of Texas. My journey with music began as a little girl. I always loved to sing and you would often find me in the back room of my house practicing to every soundtrack I could get my hands on. But it wasnt until my late teens that God began to speak to me about writing my own songs. I really did not think that was possible since I didnt even play an instrument. But I knew God was telling me to take the steps to learn how to write my music down. My dad bought my sister and me a piano and I started playing around on it. I played only on the white keys because I had no idea what the black keys were for! Then I took a group piano class, which was very helpful. God began to give me songs. They would just pour out of me. I guess it is a release to what is going on in life. At first these songs consisted a lot of the pain I was facing. God deals with you where you are. But as I allowed Him to heal me, I began to see that I was writing about this healing and hope. Instead of wallowing in my past and my fears I began to see light. I cannot express in words the gratitude I have for my Jesus. Even as I write tears come to my eyes. If you ask anyone who knows me they will tell you of the transformation that God has done in me. Now I express this through my music. I know that God desires to bring each life from this state I was in to something more than we can imagine. I pray these songs shine a light of hope and peace into all who hear.
