His early "compositions" started around age three when he wrote his own jingles for fast food restaurants as his family travelled the highways between military bases. (He may have had a jingle for McDonalds before McDonalds had a jingle...for sure Paul's was the best!) Paul's love and obsession for music were always on the front burner. Paul began seriously writing music when he was about fifteen. The song "For You", (track 7 on this CD "The Edge Of The Night"), was his first composition. Song writing was always his driving interest; back then and also today. Finally after years of deliberation and silent obscurity, songwriter, Paul Germana pursues a bright and independent career as a singing musical talent. He invites you to listen to and buy his first song CD release, "The Edge Of The Night" and is confident that no matter what kind of music you like, he will sing something on this CD that'll grab you!
