Details: Nashville, TN (May 19, 2009) Winter Creek Records artist, songwriter, professional dancer, and choreographer, SKYLA SPENCER, wants to hear what her fans have to say! Skyla has just released a NEW single to radio titled This Girl. The single is featured on CDX Vol. 474, which was distributed nationally on Monday, May 11. It is a powerful and energetic song that vows in the light of struggles and dire circumstances, This Girl will not give up! Skyla shares insight into the significance of the songs message: This song is about life and all the struggles you may encounter in your life. Life throws you curve balls sometimes, but you have to keep going and push through tough times. I believe with determination, hard work, and faith you can overcome anything. The songs message is the core of Skylas personal philosophy on life: "Never give up on what you want in life. It's about overcoming the hard times and realizing that with faith, all things are possible." "You can break me down, take my dreams, but you'll never get to the heart of me. Those lyrics from This Girl ring true for both co-writers on the song Skyla and close friend, Heather Andrews each of whom drew inspiration for the song from personal experiences. Skyla shares her journey in becoming an established country music recording artist and songwriter: Before moving to Nashville, I am sure some people thought I was crazy for taking off to Music City to chase my dream. I grew up in a small town in West Virginia and always had big dreams of being a successful singer and songwriter in Nashville, hearing my songs on the radio, and singing on the Grand Ole Opry stage. It's not been an easy journey, but it's through the struggles that you learn about yourself, about life, and gain personal growth from those experiences. She continues: There is almost always going to be people you come across in your life who will say you can't do something, that your dreams are unattainable, that you better find something else to do. It is during those times that we must hold on to what is true in our hearts and what we believe we can achieve. We all are blessed with different gifts. It's how you use your gifts that really makes a difference in this world. Heather also reaches into her past for lyrical inspiration. I've learned that life isn't worth living unless you are fighting for what you love and that if you truly want something and work for it, you can make it happen. When we wrote it, I thought about all the people who gave me funny looks when I said I was moving to Nashville by myself to be a songwriter/lyricist or when I said I wanted to be a songwriter when I was younger. She adds, We may not be in the big leagues (yet) and there might be a long road ahead, but there is always possibility if you keep at it. If it's in your heart no matter what anyone says if you stay true to yourself, they can't take that piece away. Even the small accomplishments are great ones. I'm blessed to have the opportunity to achieve my dreams and live them by co-writing this song and sharing it with you all. Skyla and Heather dedicate This Girl to girls of all ages who are determined and ambitious fighters, who have not given up on life, achieving her dreams, finding her soul mate or true happiness! Skyla is inviting fans to listen to This Girl and then share their own stories about the strong girls and women in their lives!
