This recording is BINAURAL and Requires Headphones. Studio Voodoo is THE ULTIMATE SURROUND EXPERIENCE and the binaural experience requires no special equipment besides stereo headphones. The simplest ear-buds and ipod or CD player will put you in the mix. 9 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Experimental, WORLD: World Fusion Details: Studio Voodoo is the Worlds first 6.1 surround sound DVD Audio released by DTS Digital Theater Systems. Winning the worlds first surround Award "The Discus" and nominated in multiple awards. Studio Voodoo recreates sound environments from around the world, from Swahili bonfires, operatic reveries to flamenco passion plays all woven together by heart-throbbing electronic techno-tribal beats fusing the unification of diverse cultures. Their 3D Binaural experience is striking and requires no special equipment besides stereo headphones. The Neumann KU100 dummy head was placed at listening position in the phenomenal 6.1 DTS mastering room. "Jeff Levison the mastering engineer calibrated, pressed record, play and we left the room. Its as close to hearing our DVD in 6.1 as it gets!" The simplest ear-buds and a portable player can provide plenty of binaural thrills! The listener is placed in the performance with sounds localized in a 360-degree sphere. Most binaural recording today are done with an artificial or "dummy" head replicating the average human head in dimensions and details. Some of the recording heads also model the shoulders and may even have hair on the head, because all of these details have an effect on the sound picked up by the two mikes. These mikes are usually tiny omni directional condensers mounted in the entrance to the ear canals. Put on the CD or rip the disk into your ipod, remember Headphones Required!
