His music considered to be from a realm of peace and possibility. Interestingly, he happens to be a well trained general surgeon. And while medicine has received much of his focus over the years, music has been on his mind since childhood. Trained classically, Adam quickly became his teacher's prodigy and competed nationally. As the years passed, he became interested in composing his own music. Formal training in theory, jazz, improvisation, orchestration, and production led to a seasoned young composer who still had to mature. So what better place to do it than in medical school. A graduate of the class of 1990 Adam went on to complete a surgical residency and set up a practice near Madison, WI. He released Echoes In The Canyon in 1998--his first solo CD. In 2002 he released Center Of My Heart. In 2005 he released Keys Of Hope. An artist supported by PPMP records, Adam continues to produce a vast array of musical styles and textures. Using the piano as his primary workstation, he has recorded and released 3 solo CDs and has a myriad of musical productions awaiting placement. GSW-Worldwide located Adam in 2004 and commissioned him to compose a theme for their client Genentech--a world leader in bio-oncology pharmaceuticals. MUSIC FOR LIFE was released to the world as a gift to Genentech's Non-Hodgkin's Lymphoma patients receiving their product RITUXAN. To date (Jan. 2006) 33,000 CDs have been distributed. His music has been utilized by NBC's Today Show, ABC's Good Morning America, Hollywood Tonight, Access Hollywood, CITGO, The Greenbay Packers, The 700 Club, and numerous radio shows, documentaries, and commercials. During the holiday season in 2006 Louis Vuitton utilized Adam's solo "Snowflakes" for their online catalogue. Adam is involved as the primary artist in a brand of musical products called KEYS OF HOPE-tm. This product line will soon be released as part of a catalogue of musical recordings. See ppmpfor for more information. Adam has been on Broadjam virtually since its inception and proudly lives only a couple of miles from their home in Madison, WI. Broadjam has provided an amazing and constantly growing product to independent artists. The studio which Adam has created houses some of today's most advanced keyboard based technologies. Adam has studied music most of his life and recently has studied with the Berklee School of Music. A Digital Performer user, he creates soundscapes that just months ago would have been impossible. Adam is the creator and primary talent in a project titled THE HUMAN FACTOR. This project is aimed at transforming the doctor patient relationship through performance based lectures at medical conferences everywhere. Adam is a national speaker and performer. He has had the honor of performing on Capital Hill at the American Cancer Society's first Celebration on the Hill in 2002. He is currently serving as chairman of the board of Steps For Living, a non-profit cancer survivor support organization based in New York City. See stepsforliving.org. Adam is currently working on a children's book that will have an accompanying CD of original vintage piano solos reminiscent of the late 1800's and early 1900's. The book is called "The Player Piano Mouse" and will be available in 2007. It is being illustrated by famed artist Jenniffer Julich.
