Details: Here's another great combination of melodies and stories of life from Kenny Ray Horton. This collaboration with Bruce Gaitsch, co-writer of smash hits like La Isla Bonita for Madonna and Don't Mean Nothin' for Richard Marx, was a dream in the making for Kenny Ray and still stays true to who Kenny Ray is. Mostly Recorded in Nashville, TN, Kenny Ray got to work with some of the top players in the industry such as Grammy Award Winner - George Hawkins, Jr., drummer for King Crimson - Ian Wallace and international recording artist and hit songwriter - Janey Clewer. Staying with the tradition that Kenny Ray unknowingly started, and because of requests by his fans for more of them, Kenny Ray has included 2 more patriotic songs on this record. "Just To Protect Us All" and "Lone Sailors Anthem" are tributes to those who defend our freedom and allow us to have the priviledges we have as Americans! New additions are being made to the Kenny Ray Horton website and new features such as the stories behind the songs are due to be added soon. Check out this great artist and the songs that will take you on a journey no matter where, or should I say Wherever You Are!
