Unique improvisational oriented compositions for the acoustic piano. 12 MP3 Songs CLASSICAL: Piano solo, NEW AGE: Neo-Classical Details: Daniel Fusco is a unique piano artist with a vast knowledge of his instrument. Having worked since youth as a professional piano technician and piano builder Dan's life is fully absorbed in all aspects of the acoustic piano. His passion is for the instrument and not necessarily for any particular style of music, genre, or compositional behavior. Rather, as reflected in the compositions on I Saw It Coming, Dan has an original approach of composing and playing which brings out the qualities of the instrument in a way that goes deeper than more familiar methods. Dan's compositions exhibit the potential of the acoustic piano to fulfill an all encompassing role of being "an orchestra of the hands". The tracks on I Saw It Coming have been selected for their non-genre specificity. Most are classically orientated and a few exhibit the beauty of a simple melody utilizing the format of a contemporary lyrical piece. I Saw It Coming is a work of more than 60 minutes of original, contemplative, and visually inspiring music.
