Details: Since the Tewlips were formed on June 1st 2007, the explosive homegrown Hamilton, Ontario band has grown immensely, both musically and in the public eye. With warm four-part harmonies and honest memorable songs, The Tewlips draw you in and leave you wanting more. Headlining shows at Hamilton venues like the Pepper Jack Caf, the Casbah, the Corktown, and more recently, the Hamilton Place Studio Theatre, The Tewlips have developed quite a name for themselves on the Hamilton music scene. Alex, Elliott and Corey met at Mohawk College in the Applied Music Program. It was Alex who approached Elliott, Corey and Dylan (initially played lead guitar). They all agreed to an 18-hour a week practice schedule for the summer while getting started. The first Tewlips show was on July 23rd and it was, in the bands eyes, a huge success. The and continued to write and perform in Hamilton and even landed a spot in the Danforth Music Festival in Toronto, but by April 2007, tension was mounting in the band. Two days before a show The Tewlips had been planning for 2 months, the decision was made for Dylan to leave the band. While Dylan had left on good terms, The Tewlips were about to perform with no lead guitar player. On the night of the show, with over 125 people in attendance at the Corktown, the band played as a trio with Alex working out his new found guitar solo chops, and to the bands surprise, the audience loved it. The band, without their guitar player, having already put non-refundable money down to record a full-length album, went into the studio excited to record. As the band was finishing up the CD, they brought in Samantha Kadet, Alexs younger sister to add some new harmonies to the album. This foreshadowed what was coming next. Because Alex had dubbed piano tracks and multiple guitar tracks into their recordings, the completion of the CD left The Tewlips stuck about how to fill out the sound in their live performances. The answer then became obvious. Samantha was a perfect match. She brought a new youthful energy to the band and fans couldn't be happier.
