In the autumn of 1888, the city of London was gripped with terror by a serial killer whose deeds have become legendary. Jack - The Musical tells the story of one possible conclusion to the enduring mystery of this most famous of unsolved cases. Jack - The Musical features the haunting music of Erik Sitbon and the evocative lyrics of Christopher T. George. "In Jack: The Musical, composer Erik Sitbon and the able cast of Actors Scene Unseen have proven that a musical centering on Victorian England's notorious serial killer can be a ripping, gripping experience." "Sitbon's score is studded with delights ... Numerous songs and orchestrations betray some quality time listening to Wildhorn's Jekyll Hyde."
