She was immediately embraced by Atlanta's music scene and has emerged as a powerful performer and accomplished songwriter. The first track, "Falling Away," was chosen, along with R.E.M., Vic Chesnutt, Widespread Panic, and Syd Straw, for inclusion on a nationally distributed compilation CD representing Georgia's music during the 1996 Olympics. The compilation brought attention to Alice from around the world, and even in the shadow of these great artists, Alice's song shined as one of the best in a surprising number of reviews. The next compilation Alice was
