Down-to-earth Americana goodness 11 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk-Rock, COUNTRY: Americana Show all album songs: Let You In Songs Details: Brianna Lane is a star in the making. She's poised, ambitious, a great writer, a soul singer of the first order, and a lithe, accomplished guitarist. (Jim Walsh music journalist/author Minneapolis, MN) Lane is a sweet-voiced alterna-folkie who grew up in Minnesota, once found a home in the mountains of Asheville, North Carolina, but who is truly a restless old soul. You can blame her sweetness on her roots but this girl has been on the road non-stop for several years so you can hear her experiences in every note she sings. In her years of touring Lane has shared the stage with Dar Williams, The Weepies, and Jennifer Nettles (of Sugarland) to name just a few. This fall Lane is releasing her third album entitled, Let You In. This collection of eleven well-crafted songs digs into Lanes true Americana side. When Lane set out to make Let You In she approached producer Evan Brubaker who worked with her in the past to create Radiator (2005). Both Brubaker and Lane agreed that this new batch of songs craved a different type of instrumentation than the songs on Radiator. Instead of a drums and electric guitars Brubaker and Lane focused on simplicity when they employed the help of three extremely talented musicians to create a down-to-earth, acoustic and raw, Americana album. Let You In features upright bassist Keith Lowe who has worked closely with Bill Frisell, Laura Veirs, Fiona Apple, and Dave Mathews to name just a few. Seattle-based mandolin player Zak Borden sprinkles the record with mandolin goodness and singer/songwriter Jonathan Kingham added a touch of dobro and banjo to a few tracks as well. Brianna Lane is currently touring the east coast and the Midwest to promote Let You In and with her is Boston-based singer/songwriter Liz Stahler. Together they are on the Boston to Austin Tour MySpace.com/lizandbrianna splicing their performances with 5K road races in order to raise awareness and funds for The Lance Armstrong Foundation LiveStrongas well as Reach For The Skye
