honest and poetic statements accompanied by a rich tapestry of instrumentation, create the melodic focus on everyday details of life ...the tiny realities as opposed to big events. 13 MP3 Songs FOLK: Gentle, COUNTRY: Bluegrass Details: Dale T. Brann's walking back sounds like what it is songs that tell a story - with hints of the traditions (and instrumentation) of old time, bluegrass and folk music. The music is original enough to defy an easy fit into a descriptive category, with the songs structured in a manner that allows the listener to explore their own complex perspectives of responsibility, introspection, isolation, fulfillment and individualism. Dale's music is conversation, discussion, contemplation; notes to one's self, to pay attention to the feel of the wind, the look in the eyes of an old dog. He describes his music as a melodic focus on everyday details of life; tiny realities as opposed to big events. Dale's song writing, performances and recordings blend to convey and enhance stories of: family, farm, ancestors, children, horses, cattle, stray dogs, individual efforts, trials, trying to do right - often with limited success, fatigue, and an outwardly expressed awareness that "NO WEALTH IS GREATER THAN THE PRAISE AND APPRECIATION OF THE SIMPLE THINGS..."
