Improvisational classical instrumental performances accompanied by nature sounds recorded around the State of Michigan. 10 MP3 Songs NEW AGE: Healing, CLASSICAL: New Age Details: As humans progressed into the machine age, they slowly began to detach themselves from the rhythms of nature. The frequencies of mechanized and electronic rhythms now replace those naturally regulating rhythms often resulting in stress. Many, including Native Americans understand the importance of maintaining these natural rhythms for a healthy mind and spirit. Primarily of Scottish/Irish heritage, James D. Taylor Jr. also draws his emotions from his Canadian Chippewa heritage in providing music to replace the stress causing rhythms of today's culture. Relax as composer and instrumentalist James D. Taylor Jr. leads you through a journey of meditative improvisational instrumental performances accompanied by nature sounds recorded around the state of Michigan. Award winning and renown hammered dulcimer composer and performer Charlene Helen Berry recently home from a standing ovation at Carnegie Hall provides a melody in this special addition to the Earth Song series. Please note that 15 of all annual CD sales are donated to the Michigan Wildlife Fund.
