Acoustically driven Pop/Rock; lyrics that matter, passionate delivery, technicolor melodies, and a versatile grainy voice colored by one martini too many. Like John Mayer after he lives a little more, or Sinatra with a guitar in his hands; Listen. 9 MP3 Songs POP: Today's Top 40, ROCK: Acoustic Details: Paul Vincent Gandolfi is a true renaissance artist; a singer-songwriter who wears many hats. A film composer/lyricist, playwright, recording artist and producer who has recently returned to his roots of writing mainstream pop/rock music. Paul has recorded two other solo albums under the name Paul Vincent ("Everything I Am", "Erotic Banquet"), and two albums as front man for the groups "Banned" and "Devereaux". With writing partner Terry Langfitt, he has composed the score and written the libretto for the gothic musical thriller "V", the score for the "Song of Motherhood" with librettist Pam Paul, and the Original Score for three NOVA PBS specials ("Voyage of Doom", "The Sultan's Lost Treasures" "The Diamond Deception"). In 1999 Paul Terry received the Communicator Award for their Original Score to "Voyage of Doom". "Lifesketch" is a collection of songs representative of the cycles we go through as life is thrust upon us. With intuitive lyrics, clean arrangements, and strong hooks, the songs and performances are pulled together as one cohesive experience that covers the broadstrokes and the nuance that embodies the human condition. Paul is currently working on his touring schedule and a follow up release to "Lifesketch".
