A singer, a songwriter and a modern/lyrical dancer. With melodies so sweet and lyrics straight from the heart. "Her name is Ki Johnson Growing up in Compton in a family filled with music. Her aunt would gather the nieces together and hand out soprano, alto and tenor notes. This was the beginning of her love for the beauty of music. Back in the day she would imitate the singers that would blaze through the Christian Radio Station, KMAX: Tremaine Hawkins, CeCe Winans, Vanessa Bell Armstrong and Vicki Winans. The songwriter in her began to blossom when she was about eight years old. She would listen to the Wave and begin to make up lyrics to the instrumental jazz music. Ki attended Compton High School, where she was in every musical. Her voice carried such an anointing that if the play did not require singing, a change was made just so she could sing. In the eleventh grade she won best songwriter in the Compton Unified School District Musical Competition. She was also the winner to represent her hometown in the Texas-ACTSO competition. This was only the beginning of her transformation. The lyrics that God has given Ki, are lyrics that deal with everyday life. These songs are to reach the unsaved and the saved person with clarity and Gods Love. Please enjoy "Butterfly Notes". Pay close attention to the lyrics written by Ki Johnson.
