Details: For years Oliver Meadow's passion has been listening and celebrating electronic music. After being on the "house island" Eivissa several times he decided to take his own role in producing electronic music, so he built his own studio from scratch and started producing everything that was called "electronic" - chillout, house, techno... After a certain time it was clear what he was after - HOUSE, HOUSE, HOUSE! He's not only producing house but loving and living it. It's well known that Rock n' Roll is a so called way of life and that's what house music is for Oliver Meadow. In his tracks he works with lots of vocals combined with strong beats - the perfect match for everybody!
