A journey through various sound landscapes and spheres, combined with electronics, guitar-riffs improvisations and jazzy themes. 6 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Weird Jazz, ELECTRONIC: Soundscapes Details: A little over a year ago my trio began recording with Martin Medimorec on bass and vibraphone and Christian Specker on the drums. The idea was to produce a CD using my own compositions. While we were producing, the idea arose to re-arrange these pieces electronically and to order them according to style. Our sound engineer and "sound fiddler" Thomas Baumgartner seemed to be the perfect person for this venture and he became co-composer and an essential member of the "outmars" project. Throughout the musical and tonal expansion of our recordings music reached a new dimension for me-one that suggested images. It was with this idea that we began working with the video artist Patrick Steffen. The "outmars" performance, as it is known today, was born. Check out some video sequences on our homepage...
