Hilary's stunning voice and Grant's extraordinarily dexterous guitar combine to deliver blues, ballads and self-penned songs all laced with energy and boundless humour. 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, EASY LISTENING: Cabaret Details: Hilary Spencer and Grant Baynham formed their musical partnership in 2001. They realised that they had something very special here and have been proved right at venues all over the UK. Hilary is already well-known in North America as the lead voice of award-winning acappella trio ARTISAN and Grant attained fame in the UK with four years as a presenter on prime-time TV. He also became the regular comic songsmith on several nation-wide radio shows which may explain how he became the country's most published songwriter - and why he's always in a hurry. He's fast, frenetic, funny and friendly - and he plays guitar like a man with six hands. Both Hilary and Grant have a love for all things musical and their tastes are reflected in the breadth of material on offer on "Plenty". More than half the songs are Grant's own but you will also find comedy classics by America's Lou and Peter Berryman, Britain's Jake Thackray and a staggering version of the immortal Edith Piaf's "La Vie En Rose". Individually Hilary and Grant are consummate entertainers in their own right: together they are dazzling.
