Did you know that your kitchen sink and pantry can hold the key to your toothache pain relief? In fact everything you need can be found right under your own roof. No expensive over the counter pills and potions that leave you with nasty, drowsy side effects. First of all the pain youre experiencing is the nerve thats been compromised. The lattice of minerals that form your teeth are a fortress of strength. They are the toughest bones in the body because they are designed to be exposed to the elements that you throw at them. They are subjected to wearing and grinding as well as acids that are secreted from the bacteria on your teeth. Because your tooth has been eroded and is now compromised because of its weakness from tooth decay it exhibits as the pain youre now experiencing.
