Electronic Rock mixing industrial, goth and techno 6 MP3 Songs ROCK: Goth, ELECTRONIC: Industrial Details: Everpresent continues its development in combining rock and electronica. The hypnosis continues with an expanded, fuller sound, more guitars, more intricate vocals, and re-interpretations of dark atmosphere on this October 18, 2004 release. The addition of Victoria Mierlak's blues/rock vocals and the pummeling progressive rock drumming of Aharon Verno add an increased sense of depth to vocalist/songwriter/keyboardist/percussionist Matthew Cahoon's intense, dark compositions. 2 tracks from this cd, "Behind Your Veil" and "Silence Speaks", -recorded at Sanctum Sound (sanctumsound.com) and co-produced by Steve Catizone in September-November 2003- received national college radio airplay throughout March-April of 2004 (including both east and west coasts) under the direction of Dr. Gene Foley. (foleyentertainment.com) More info is available at everpresent.org "Everpresent is music for cyborgs - it's an inventive synthesis of electronica and live performance." -Adam Olenn, composer "Everpresent's fierce rhythm and grappling lyrics come together seamlessly, keeping focused from vigorous begin to Herculean end." -Jonathan Hu, cellist "The tortured crooning of male/female vocal duo Matthew Cahoon, and Victoria Mierlak are the lone human element in the dense blast of wall-of-sound guitar, haunting synths, and pummeling beats. Everpresent's blissed out goth-jams, driven by a churning, machine-like rhythm section can, at times, sound absolutely huge." -Nicholas Balkin
